Great American Smokeout Helps Kick Habit

The American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout set for Nov. 19, is an upbeat, good-natured effort to encourage smokers to give up cigarettes for 24 hours, if only to prove to themselves they can. The ultimate goal, however, is to get smokers to quit for good!

If you use tobacco and would like to quit smoking and chewing but cannot, get the support you need to beat nicotine addiction on this day. Don't miss this great opportunity. Quitting tobacco for just this one day may be the beginning of your tobacco-free life.

Nonsmokers can join in the fun by adopting family members, friends and co-workers who smoke and encouraging them to quit. The Adopt-A-Smoker program is a great way to show them how much you care and it's easy to do. Begin by escorting your adoptee to Washington Square Nov. 19, where a fire truck and crew will be present to assist them in extinguishing the smoking flame from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. During this event they can toss their cigarettes into the flames to kick the habit.

In addition, tobacco information and support kits will be available at the Washington Square event, from 1 to 4:30 p.m. at the medical and dental clinics and 3:30 to 5 p.m. at the Patch Post Exchange.

What else can nonsmokers do to help? Nonsmokers can show support by making an extra effort to keep close contact by phone or in person; being a calm, smiling, reassuring influence; continually offering praise and encouragement; helping the quitter keep a good sense of humor; and agreeing to give up something they love, such as chocolate, coffee, soft drinks or soap operas for the day.

For more info call the community health nurse at 0711-680-8209. All events are sponsored by the Stuttgart Health Clinic. To find out more about the smoking cessation classes sponsored by the clinic call 0711-680-8610.

Satellite Signal

AFRTS is changing the satellite carrying its signal. As a result of work to re-point dishes at transmitters and cable head-ends, most viewers will experience a brief (less than two hour) interruption in AFN television some time before

Nov. 14. Viewers who receive the signal via a satellite dish and an individual receiver decoder will lose the signal on Nov. 14 unless they take action to re-aim their dish and reprogram their decoders. AFN has information on their web site to facilitate this change.

Christmas Mailing Deadlines

To ensure that letters and packages sent to the United States are delivered before Christmas personnel must mail them by the following dates: Nov. 20, SAM parcels; Dec. 4, PAL parcels; Dec. 11, priority parcels and first-class letters; and Dec. 18, Express mail.

American Education Week

November 15 through 21 marks the 77th annual observance of American Education Week, a time for saluting our public schools and the people who work in them. This year's theme, teaching children to think and dream, reflects the fact that today's schools do more than teach basic skills. They nurture and inspire children and help shape young minds and equip them with a range of skills for the 21st century. Visit your school during this special week and see today's educators in action. But remember that public education is a public enterprise and parents, businesses, churches, civic groups, etc., can lend a hand. It doesn't matter whether you have children of your own in school. Your time and talents are needed. Call your school today.

Military Family Week

Military Family Week, typically celebrated during the week of Thanksgiving, will take place this year Nov. 22 to 29. The week offers an opportunity for organizations to give their thanks and offer their gratitude to military families for their commitment, dedication, and support to the mission. Don't forget to recognize your organization's military families. For more info call 0711-680-7176.

Fire Prevention Checklist

Fire prevention checklists are due before close of business the third workday of each month. Checklists should be submitted to respective installation coordinators. Fax Patch, 0711-680-7416; Kelley 0711-729-2006; Robinson Barracks, 0711-819-7313; or Panzer, 07031-15845.

Recall to Repair Power Wheels

Fisher-Price is recalling up to 10 million battery-powered Power Wheels ride-on cars and trucks. The vehicles' electrical components can overheat and cause fires. Children can suffer injuries from fires and house fires can occur. Additionally, wiring problems can prevent the vehicles from stopping. To find out more, check out the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission web site.

Recalled Hormel Products

A recent recall of three Hormel products impacts European commissaries and their customers. The recall by Hormel Food Corporation is for the following products: Hormel Hamburger, UPC 03760029230; Hormel Cheeseburger, UPC 03760006628; and Hormel Bacon Cheeseburger, UPC 03760023406. These products could be contaminated with a dangerous bacterium called listeria, however, no illnesses have been reported. Hormel is investigating the source of the problem, in the meantime, all commissary customers with these items in their home freezers may bring them back to their commissary for a full refund.

Force Protection Measures in Milan

Due to the increase in local security measures in response to the recent global terrorist threat, it has become essential that U.S. military personnel, family members and DoD civilians stay clear of demonstrations, rallies or other large gatherings. The potential for violence always exists and should remain a priority in our planning and awareness.

Furthermore, the Sept. 22 bombing in Milan raises the possibility of further attacks in that city. Officials recommend that U.S. personnel avoid locations frequented by international tourists, including museums, public venues, public transportation and other attractions in Milan, at least through the Thanksgiving holiday. For more information contact SSgt. Jay Sample at DPTMS Security, 0711-7292-518.

EDUCATION & TRAINING

Master of Business Administration

Cameron University, in conjunction with University of Oklahoma, is now offering a Master of Business Administration (MBA) in Stuttgart. This program takes a general management role of business using the case study model developed by Harvard Business School. The MBA is offered in an intensive format, designed for the busy schedules of military personnel and other employed adults.

This intensive format allows students to complete courses in a brief amount of time and permits classes to be taught by professors from the home campus. The overall objective of the Cameron University graduate program leading to the MBA is to prepare students to serve as effective managers in the business world or in business aspects of government and other agencies.

Enrollment is now open for Spring 1999 courses. Cameron University will offer the following MBA courses in Stuttgart: ECON 5212/1, Macroeconomics (Econ Core Area), Jan. 26 to 31; BUS 5982/1, Applied Business Strategy (Core Course), March 9 to 14; and BUS 5962/1, Current Issues in Human Resource Management (elective), April 20 to 25.
